

Reflective Supervision Resource Guide

A great deal of work has been done on reflective supervision by a number of national and federal organizations. In this activity, you will explore resources available to help you learn more about reflective supervision. Refer to the websites listed in the Explore section of lesson 6 Training and Curriculum Specialist, Child Abuse Prevention and make notes about resources that might be valuable in your work.

Website & Description	Notes
Reflective Supervision: Head Start, Early Childhood Learning & Knowledge Center
Three Building Blocks of Reflective Supervision. An article published by Zero to Three.
Reflective Supervision Guidelines. Best Practices for Reflective Supervision/Consultation. Minnesota Association for Children's Mental Health
Reflective Supervision/Consultation in Early Intervention and Early Childhood Special Education. University of Minnesota Center for Early Education and Development	