Examples of Program Environment Spaces

Family Corner

A comfortable, esthetically pleasing space that families can use as they enter or exit your program to connect with each other and their children.

It should also include information and resources for families
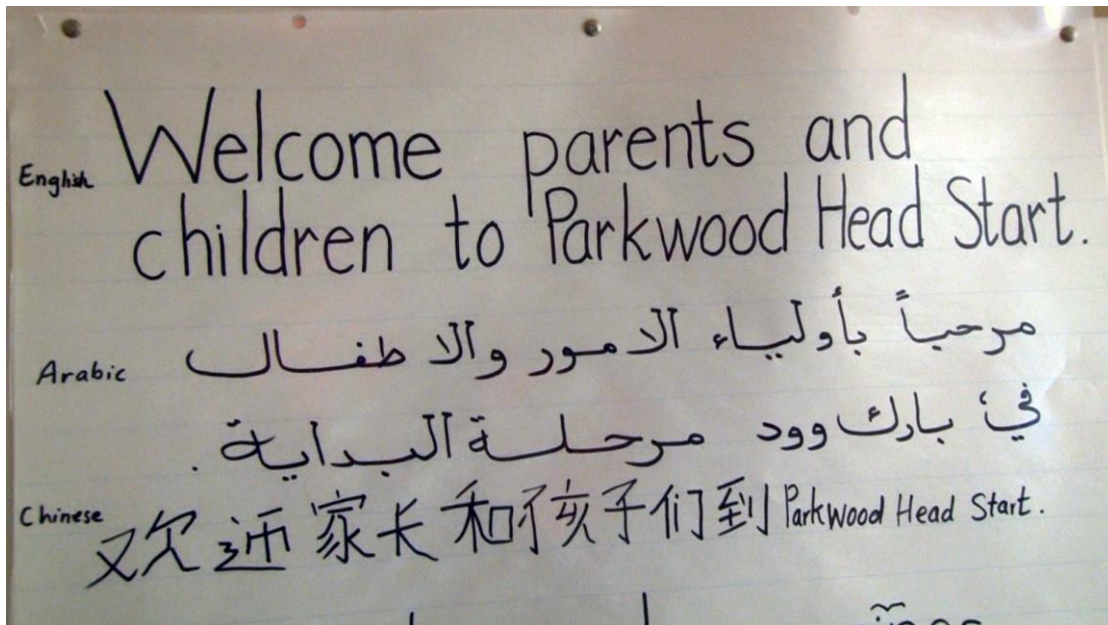

Private Family Meeting Areas

You should also offer a more private space that families can use to review resources and complete paperwork, or where they can conference confidentially and comfortably with staff.

Written greetings in diverse languages

Work with families, staff or volunteers to offer signage and resources in diverse languages.

Meeting and Resource Areas for Staff

Create comfortable spaces for staff to take breaks, meet with each other, receive training, and work on materials for their classrooms as well as their own professional development.

Notice how materials and resources are labeled.
